

Te Tiriti o Waitangi Commitment

Our Commitment

Kura Accounting recognises Te Tiriti o Waitangi as Aotearoa New Zealand's founding document and is committed to honouring its principles in all aspects of our work. We value partnership, protection, and participation, and strive to reflect these principles in how we engage with schools, early childhood centres (ECEs), communities, and stakeholders.

Our Approach

1. Partnership

- We work collaboratively with schools, ECEs, iwi, hapū, and Māori communities to ensure our financial solutions meet diverse needs.
- Decision-making and planning processes seek input and guidance from Māori stakeholders where relevant, fostering mutual respect and shared outcomes.

2. Protection

- We actively safeguard Māori knowledge, data, and cultural values in all our software and services.
- Our systems and processes are designed to respect and protect the integrity of information, including cultural and intellectual property.

3. Participation

- We encourage meaningful Māori involvement in the design, implementation, and evaluation of our services.
- Professional development and training for our team includes understanding tikanga, Te Ao Māori perspectives, and culturally responsive practices.

Implementation & Accountability

- All employees, contractors, and representatives are expected to understand and uphold this commitment.
- We regularly review our practices to ensure alignment with Te Tiriti principles and improve engagement with Māori communities.
- Feedback from Māori stakeholders is actively sought and incorporated to enhance our services and approach.

Our Promise

Kura Accounting is dedicated to fostering equitable, respectful, and culturally responsive relationships with all schools and ECEs. By honouring the principles of Te Tiriti o Waitangi, we aim to support inclusive, effective, and sustainable outcomes in education finance across Aotearoa.

Ramesh.P

Signed on behalf of Kura Accounting

Priyesh Ramesh Director, Kura Accounting

A subsidiary of Project 360°

Wellington, New Zealand